The Honky Tonky Donkey performance by Peace Class was a great success!

The children clearly showed how much they enjoyed the songs - especially the choir from Courage Class— and the story, beautifully narrated by members of Endurance Class. Thank you to everyone who worked so hard to make the Nativity performance such a polished and festive treat, including the chime bar group for their lovely recital of Silent Night.

What's happening in school? Peace Class

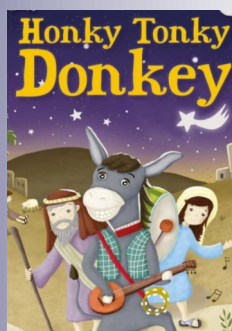

PEACE class shining in royalty

As we come to the end of this term, we want to take a moment to celebrate all the incredible hard work and achievements of the children in Peace Class. This term has been filled with exciting learning experiences, creativity, and teamwork. The children have worked so hard in their reading, writing and maths, and have enjoyed our units of work in other subjects.

In our History lesson this week, we explored the life and significance of Queen Elizabeth II as part of our topic on Famous People. The children learned about her role as a monarch, her long reign, and some key events during her time as Queen.

To make our learning creative and fun, the class also worked on drawing portraits of the Queen. It was a wonderful way to combine history with art and celebrate an important figure in British history.

Honky Tonky Donkey

A special highlight of the term was our Nativity performance. The children worked so hard to learn their lines, songs, and actions, and their performance was truly wonderful.

We will continue to build on these successes and explore more exciting topics together. Until then, we wish you all a joyful festive season and a happy, healthy New Year.

What's happening in school? Courage Class

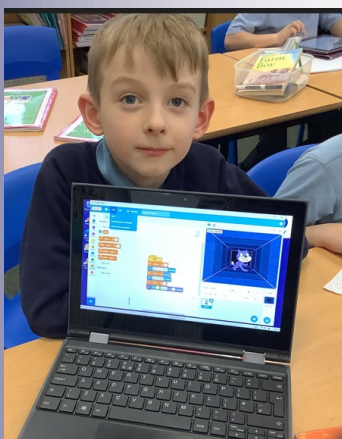

Courage class shining in enjoying their learning.

This year the children in Courage Class have made their own decorations for our class Christmas tree. Various bauble designs adorn our tree and this has helped us think about the magic of Christmas!

We have now finished our book Stig of the Dump and have thoroughly enjoyed reading this classic children's book. We have also written some great letters as an animal character in response to the book Oi! Get off our train about a number of endangered species.

Mrs James and Mrs Jaswal have been impressed with how well the children have worked consistently hard this term and have participated well in everything we have been doing. From computing, learning how to programme from scratch, to science using torches to create shadows when learning about

Well done Courage Class, have a restful Christmas ready for an exciting Spring term!

What's happening in school? Endurance Class

Endurance class shining in learning

It's been a very busy term for the Children of Endurance class: We've had our Sharing Assembly, Year 6 has had Mock SATs papers to complete, we've finished two sizeable writing units, we've gone to the pantomime and to Leicester Cathedral as well as a Mosque.

We've completed work on what it means to be a Muslim in modern Britain, explored North America, learned about the significance of the Islamic Golden Age, made bridges out of spaghetti, learned how to read sheet music, discussed our pets in Spanish, learned how to use negative space and scale factor to take a 2D image and make a 3D artistic sculpture out of it.

We've learned about polyrhythms and Gamelan music. We've experimented with light and learned about how different organisms grow and develop over their life cycle.

As you can see we have had fun learning how to saw and construct in design technology. Mr Kearney was impressed by the amount of sawdust on the carpet but less so by the accuracy of cutting the correct length!

We've had debates in RE about whether or not Christmas should be considered a Christian or Secular celebration.

tion, have learned about ratio and fractions and BIDMAS, and done it all while showcasing the School's Vision and Values consistently.

The children have worked incredibly hard this term and have very much earned a break this Christmas. I look forward to seeing them come back in the New Year ready and raring to go for the next term, hitting the ground running and keeping up the good work.

Christmas Lunch

Arnesby Christmas Lunch was great fun with children colouring their own place mats and devouring their lunch! The Christmas pudding was the real hit with lots of children enjoying this festive treat. A big thanks to all the staff for helping to serve the children and Patrick Rendall our Chair of Governors who was the official quality control! And a special thanks to Julie Springthorpe who serves the children's lunches every day of the school

The Lantern Walk

The Lantern Walk started at the Village Hall as we moved around the village singing Christmas Carols.

Mr Kearney ably led the singing with the help of his guitar not phased by one of his strings snapping on the way!

The children sang very well and enjoyed the walk ready for an evening of Christmas fun and entertainment back at the Village Hall at the end of the walk. Santa even came to find out what was happening too!

Thank you to the Friends of Arnesby (PTA) - Rups and the team, for organising the games, food, activities and the Christmas Hampers raffle. Overall the event made over £790!

Thank you everyone for supporting the school and the PTA.

The Pantomime

This year we went to the De Montfort Hall to see the Pantomime Dick Whittington; tickets kindly funded by the Friends of Arnesby (PTA).

The children all enjoyed the show: When Dick realises he is penniless, he sets out on a journey to London, where the streets are reportedly paved with gold. Of course, his trusty cat joins him for this epic journey. While in London, he takes on Queen Rat and her growing army, and they had a legendary adventure!

It was a very LOUD experience with the children knowing all of the songs!

Keeping Children Safe

At National Online Safety, we believe in empowering parents, carers and trusted adults with the information to hold an informed conversation about online safety with their children, should they feel it is needed. This guide focuses on one topic of many which we believe trusted adults should be aware of. Please visit www.nationalonlinesafety.com for further guides, hints and tips for adults.

The 12 Online Safety Tips of Christmas

FOR CHILDREN WITH NEW DEVICES

Christmas is almost upon us once again, and soon some lucky children will be excitedly tearing the wrapping off a new mobile phone, tablet or games console. For some of them, it will be the first time they've owned a device that connects them to the online world. Even for older children, a new device means new corners of the digital landscape to explore – and, unfortunately, new risks to be aware of.

We've put together our top tips so that you can guide your young ones in enjoying their new digital gifts safely and responsibly throughout the year to come.

Merry Christmas!

- 1. ALWAYS SET A PASSWORD
If your child's new device has a password protection feature, use it! It helps to keep their private information safe and will deny others access to their device without permission. Your children's passwords should be something memorable to them – but something which other people can't guess (it's also a good idea for parents to write it down in case it gets forgotten).
- 2. SET UP 'PARENTAL CONTROLS'
This really is an essential when your child gets a new device, so they're protected from the outset. Most phones, tablets and consoles allow you to customise their settings to determine which games your child can play, how they can communicate (and who with), what content they can access and so on. It will give you peace of mind that they can't inadvertently do something they shouldn't.
- 3. PAY ATTENTION TO AGE RATINGS
One of the first things children want to do with any new device is play games and explore apps. Before they download anything or install a new console game, check its age rating. Many popular games and apps have content that's not suitable for younger ages. The safest long-term solution is to adjust the device's settings so they can only download and use games and apps appropriate for their age.
- 4. KEEP NUMBERS AND DEVICES PRIVATE
Make sure your child understands that they should never share their phone number with someone they don't know or accept a friend request from them. They should also appreciate that it's a good idea to mainly keep their device out of sight, never lend it to a stranger, and never put it down somewhere that other people could steal it or take it to use without asking.
- 5. HAVE 'THE MONEY CONVERSATION'
Before your children start using their new device in earnest, talk to them about in-app purchases and other ways that money might be spent through their device. Once they understand, you might want to agree on a spending limit and reassure them that they can come to you if they're uncertain, or if they have made a purchase by accident.
- 6. DISCOURAGE DEVICE DEPENDENCY
Of course, children who've just got a new device will naturally want to spend as much time on it as possible. But whether they're zapping bad guys, watching videos or connecting with friends, it's easy for them to get attached very quickly. Gently remind them that having family time, going outdoors and getting some exercise are all fun, too. And the device will be there when they get back.
- 7. EXPLAIN SECURE WIFI NETWORKS
Your home WiFi is protected by a password that only your family knows, whereas public networks (like those found in coffee shops, for example) can be accessed by anyone. It's important that your child grasps this difference because, if they're using a portable device on an unsecured network, then a hacker could access their personal information without them even knowing.
- 8. LIMIT SCREEN TIME
Using a device for too long, especially just before bed, can interfere with a child's sleep quality and reduce their concentration and overall enthusiasm. It might be helpful to agree on certain times of day when they don't use their device. Most devices' settings let you specify a screen-time limit, helping your child to stay fresh and focused in order to perform well at school.
- 9. ONLY PAIR WITH KNOWN BLUETOOTH DEVICES
Your child may want to connect to another device via Bluetooth, so they can listen to music wirelessly or share pictures and videos with nearby friends. But if they use Bluetooth to link with a device they don't know, they're at risk of a stranger being able to see their personal information or having someone transmit a virus onto their device.
- 10. TURN LOCATION SETTINGS OFF
It's safest to disable the device's location services (if it's a portable device) so your child doesn't inadvertently make other people aware of where they are. You can usually do this via the device's privacy control settings. Turning location settings off not only means your child's whereabouts can't be tracked by others, it also significantly extends battery life.
- 11. STAY AWARE OF THE SURROUNDINGS
It's quite common to see adults not looking where they're going while engrossed in their phone. Children are even more easily distracted. In some cases, children have been hit by cars or cyclists because they were staring at their device and lost track of where they were. Remind your child that screens and walking don't mix. If they need to use their device, they should stop in a safe place first.
- 12. BE THERE IF THEY NEED TO TALK
Even when you've made a device as secure as you can, there's still a possibility of your child seeing something that bothers them, or someone they don't know attempting to contact them. If this happens, listen to their concerns, empathise and reassure them. Once they've explained what happened, you can decide if you should take further action like blocking or reporting another user.
